HUNTSVILLE CITY HALL SOLD AT PUBLIC AUCTION

Ogden, Nov. 8.—Ralph Hoag, cashier of the Utah National bank, being the highest bidder, the Huntsville city hall is now his property. Mr. Hoag having bid $825 at the sheriff's sale held on Monday at the county court house. When the final order of dissolution of the Ogden valley metropolis had been made, it was found that the municipality was indebted to the extent of about $2,000. The city's assets, among which was the city hall and the lighting system, were therefore ordered to be sold at the sheriff's sale. The highest bidder for the electric lighting system was Mr. Hoag. A number of Huntsville citizens were present at the sale and the general consensus of opinion seemed to be that the price paid for the city's assets were all that could be expected. It has been rumored that the Utah National bank will remodel the old city hall and open a branch bank. It is also currently rumored that Mr. Nelson will continue to operate the electric system, the power being purchased from the Utah Light & Railway company.

SUGAR BEET CROP ALREADY HARVESTED

(Special Correspondence.)
Sugar City, Ida., Nov. 3.—Politics is taking the time of many of the people, and is the sole item of conversation. Both the Republicans and the Democrats have many workers in the field, and by the amount of work that is being done by both parties a rather close election is being looked for. The Republicans are in the majority in this section and the opposite party is working overtime to gain voters.
The fall weather here has been delightful. The beets are in the sheds in splendid shape and much of the fall plowing is being finished. This will be a help to the farmers, as the short spring makes them hasty to get their crops in the ground in time.
The factory is making splendid headway, and though the run will be shorter than usual, the grade of sugar is excellent and the sugar output will be larger. Some of the factory employees are at the Parker sizer, working the beets there. They expect to be through with the sizer by the end of the week and will start cutting the beets here again.
